

Gemini Rail Technology has demonstrated a leading engineering capability for more than 25 years

Establishment of Hunslet Transportation Projects Ltd. (HTPL) by a group of engineers and managers

Divestment of HTPL to Holec Machines and Appareten BV

Strategic alignment towards an engineering consultancy and turnkey projects provider

Management buyout by Managing & Finance Director and backed by institutional investors

Acquired by Vossloh Kiepe

Rebranding to Kiepe Electric UK

1989

1990

1994

1998

2002

2007

2012

2016

2017

2018

Awarded major contract to design, engineer, build and commission the Class 323 Electric Multiple Unit for British Rail

HTPL was acquired by Jenbacher, the Austrian train builder

Rebranding to Transys Projects Limited

Second management buyout

Acquired by Knorr-Bremse

Acquired by Mutares and rebranded to Gemini Rail Technology UK Ltd

Gemini Rail Technology is an established turnkey engineering and project management specialist with more than 25 years of history.